

MARCH

inspiration guide

Sounds Like Success: Educator & SLP Collaboration

Read Becker's new blog sharing how early childhood educators can team up with Speech Language Pathologists

Mastering the Messiness of Springtime

Check out this article from Zero to Three to help demystify our understanding of children's sensory thresholds.

Take a Springtime Welcome Walk

Can you use your senses to find signs of spring? Download Becker's Welcome Walk printable to capture your experiences.

Color Me Spring

Hone your observation skills with this seasonal activity blending art, science and nature!

Very Hungry Caterpillar Day!

Celebrate Eric Carle's beloved caterpillar on March 30th with these activities.

More Than Just 'Mad': Expanding Children's Emotional Vocabulary

Visit NAEYC's article "Teaching Emotional Intelligence in Early Childhood" to learn several strategies to help children develop the ability to recognize and label an increasing range of emotions, and why these skills support children's successful friendships, learning, and more.

BECKER'S®

artfulgoods™
by Becker's®